If a magnetar flew past Earth within 100,000 miles, its ultra-magnetic field would destroy the data on every credit card.

But it most likely won’t destroy your debt.